DineEquity Awards $70,000 Asset Recovery Project to AB Commercial Services

Philadelphia, PA, USA – AB Commercial Inc. (ABCSI), a leading national asset recovery and liquidation firm, has been awarded a $70,000 asset recovery project for DineEquity, parent company of Applebee's and IHOP.

This project is managed by Michael Lombardi, President and COO at ABCSI. It will consist of decommissioning, removal, hard drive wiping and reselling of office equipment including Cisco, Dell, VOIP and other data center equipment.

The removal will take place throughout November at their Kansas headquarters and Glendale, CA location because of their relocation.

“It keeps all that equipment out of a landfill and greatly reduces carbon omissions by reusing it. Our goal is to keep everything possible out of landfills and really dedicate ourselves to matching sellers and buyers so we can reduce, reuse and relocate items,” said Lombardi.

AB Commercial Inc. maintains its headquarters in the greater Philadelphia area and has operations worldwide. They buy and sell used and surplus office equipment and furniture, phones, computers, furniture, warehouse and more. ABCSI also provides services of liquidation, project management, recycling, relocation, facility closures and certified disposals/destructions.
